Commercial Breeder means any person or business required to hold a business tax receipt who engages in the sale or breeding of three (3) or more litters of dogs or cats, per a one-year period or offers one (1) or more domestic cat(s) or dog(s) for breeding or stud purposes, producing three (3) or more litters per year, excepting service dog organizations that are members of Assistance Dogs International or the International Guide Dog Federation. Commercial breeders are subject to agricultural zoning requirements of the Land Development Code

Hobby Breeder means any person who intentionally or unintentionally causes or allows breeding or studding of one (1) or more domestic cat(s) or dog(s) producing one (1) to two (2) litters per household or premises per one-year period, which results in the selling or otherwise transferring ownership of offspring; retaining offspring; improving the breed; exhibiting dogs or cats at shows operated by a national, state, or local recognized organization; or raising service animals or animals used for law enforcement or other types of work, exempting service dog organizations that are members of Assistance Dogs International or the International Guide Dog Federation.

Please enclose $1,000 permit fee as well as a copy of your Collier County Business Tax Receipt and zoning approval.
